

Boys & Girls Club Benefits from Ho-Chunk Donation

Beloit, WI – The Ho-Chunk Nation is thrilled its $5,000 donation to the Stateline Boys & Girls Club will help the organization fund important youth programs in the Beloit community.

“We laud the work being done by the Clubs’ leadership, staff and supporters on behalf of local youth,” said Ho-Chunk Nation spokesperson Anne Thundercloud. “It is our commitment not only to the youth of today but to future generations that drives the Ho-Chunk Nation and our people. We take pride in the investments and contributions we make to local communities to improve education, support young people, and provide jobs and opportunities for families across the state.” “The Ho-Chunk Nation donation is a much appreciated and needed contribution to our organization,” said Frederick Buggs, Stateline Boys & Girls Clubs Chief Professional Officer. “The donation will help us continue to provide our youth development programming, including character and leadership development, education and career development, health and life skills, sports and fitness skills, and the arts. We depend on donations, like the Ho-Chunk Nation’s, to provide even more positive learning opportunities for the children we serve.”

Each year, the Stateline Boys & Girls Clubs serves more than 3,000 kids in the greater Beloit area. Its core programs are designed to build physical, emotional, social and cultural competencies in youth.

We feel it is our duty as a good neighbor in Wisconsin to help organizations like the Stateline Boys & Girls Club,” said Thundercloud. “We believe that through partnership, cooperation, and good old-fashioned hard work, the Ho-Chunk Nation will have a positive impact on the Beloit area and become a long-term community partner.”
